

Merchandise & Experiences Marketplaces

Picture the most exciting shopping experience you could ever imagine. Maybe you're choosing between photography classes in Tuscany or bungee jumping in South Africa. You might be upgrading to smart home technology or splurging on a new snowboard. Or – maybe you're just buying something you really want but would never usually treat yourself to.

Whatever it is, we'll help make it happen.

We have an unbeatable collection of cool products, once-in-a-lifetime experiences and our proprietary travel engine. Brands that fit every lifestyle, destinations that are only dreamed of and experiences that'll be raved about. Trust us – you've never rewarded employees and customers like this before.

Inspiring people. Delivering results.

From numerous academic studies and years of real-world results, we know a lot about what really motivates people. (Hint: it's not cash.) Real, ongoing motivation comes from offering the right rewards. In the right place. At the right time.

See it.

When done right, a rewards program will generate excitement from the moment it's announced. As soon as your participants see what's at stake, it's game on.

Share it.

The best rewards are those we can talk about (or brag about.) And not only will we talk about the reward itself, we'll also talk about how and where we earned it.

Savor it.

Cash has a way of disappearing into our bank accounts, never to be thought of again. A trip, an experience or a luxury is infinitely more memorable and that makes it infinitely more impactful.

"Money, as it turns out, is very often the most expensive way to motivate people."

Dan Ariely, Predictably Irrational

You know you need to inspire top performance and significant results. You also need to get the best return on your investment. The trick: offer tangible, aspirational rewards your participants will think about. Talk about. And want to re-live, over and over again.

We're global.

No, seriously - we really are. Our Merchandise and Experiences Marketplaces are used by more than four million participants in over 160 countries and 22 languages.

The best part? We're just as local as we are global. With over 1,500 associates in 18 international offices, we've got you covered no matter where your participants are. And we're more than just a PO box in every country - our local associates are committed to developing a mix of culturally-relevant rewards that fit your business. You won't find any "one-size-fits-all" here.

Problem? No problem.

We create a worry-free experience from start to finish - for you and your participants. They've worked hard for their reward and it's our job to make it as easy as possible for them to get it. That's why we have dedicated, BIW customer care team associates located in our offices around the world. They're committed to the success of your program, which starts with delivering stellar customer service.

Our promise: If something is wrong, we'll make it right.

It never gets old.

Getting – and keeping – your participants' attention is everything to us. We're constantly on the lookout for new and cool stuff to add to our mix of rewards. Not only that, they'll always be in the know about what's available through our seasonally-updated, dynamic marketing. With something for everyone, nobody will leave our Marketplaces empty-handed.

As important as the rewards are, we also know the overall user experience can make or break the success of a program. We take pride in our dedication to ongoing technological reviews and updates, making sure participants will be inspired from start to finish.

Let's talk about the fun stuff.

All the brands your participants need, want and can't wait to talk about with their friends. Our country-specific, carefully-curated marketplaces are simply irresistible.

Let's check some things off that bucket list or celebrate with a local event or staycation. Your participants can use points for excursions, lessons, dining, tours and so much more. Participants can curate custom trips using our proprietary Itinerary Builder tool.

All about you.

What rewards are going to motivate your participants and deliver the best results for your company? Every one of our clients is different.
